SNEED-LOGAN.—"Richland Home" was brilliantly illuminated and decorated Wednesday evening, when at 8 o'clock Miss Elizabeth Woods, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Logan, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. Henry Sneed, of Knoxville. The decorations were in green and white and the design was carried out in many ways. The bride party entered the parlors to Lohengrin's wedding march performed by Mrs. Ben S. Boyd, a sister of the bride from Knoxville. They were preceded by little Misses Sarah and Lucy Hooker, who carried the ribbons and scattered daisies along their pathway. Miss Mary Logan was maid of honor and Mr. John Sneed best man and the attendants, W. H. Shanks and Miss Fannie Shanks, W. S. Embury and Miss Dollie McRoberts and Thomas H. Shanks and Miss Lida Sneed. Rev. Cooley, of the Danville Episcopal church, performed the beautiful ceremony, characteristic of his church, which included the wedding ring. During its performance Mrs. Boyd softly played the "Flower Song" and when it was concluded congratulations were showered upon the happy couple. Afterwards an elegant supper, superbly served, added to the enjoyment of the evening. The bride was very lovely in white and carried bride's roses. She is a charming young woman and the man who has won her will have a tender and true helpmeet. He is said to be an unusually fine business man, the son of Circuit Judge Sneed, and stands very high in social and commercial circles in Knoxville. After a week's stay at Crab Orchard Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Sneed will be at home at 1,313 McCammon Avenue, Knoxville, after July 1. The wedding was elegant in all its appointments and the young couple start life under the most favorable auspices. That their fondest hopes may be realized and their lives be an unbroken honeymoon, many friends unite in wishing. Among the many relatives was Mrs. Judge Sneed, who had come to see the consummation of her son's fondest hopes.

WAYNESBURG.

The rain of last Friday was the heaviest that has fallen here for a long time.

The census enumerator, Mr. Wallis, visited Waynesburg this week. Mr. H. H. Singleton has received by rail during the past week, over 13,000 feet of logs to be cut at his new mill. Mr. William Padgett, an aged citizen of this section, died on the 15th. Rev. W. R. Davidson preached at the Baptist church Tuesday night. Dr. W. R. O'Bannon is visiting at Mrs. F. S. Gooch's, who has been sick for quite a while.

On last Sunday morning Miss Brillie, aged 18, the very intelligent and beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Johnson, was called from her home and her many friends. She had been sick for some time. On Monday a large crowd gathered at the Baptist church, where Rev. W. R. Davidson conducted funeral services over her remains. After appropriate services a long funeral train marched to Olive church, where she was laid to rest. Her friends will miss her much, but it will be a consolation to them to know that she had lived an amiable, christian life and is now beyond the reach of all pain.

MT. VERNON.

Dripping Springs now has telephonic connections.

Your report, taken from some other paper, that Babe Owens was killed at Pine Hill, is an error. He was wounded but is on the road to recovery. John Pitman, the man who shot him, was to have been tried here Monday, but the case was continued on account of absent witnesses.

James Houston, who lost his life in the C. & O. bridge disaster Tuesday, was a citizen of this county and lived at Pine Hill with his father. He had been engaged with the bridge gang for many years and was an upright man. His burial took place at Pine Hill Wednesday afternoon. The Masonic fraternity, of which he had been a member but a few weeks, had charge of the funeral.

George Mullins, one of the victims of the bridge disaster near Lebanon, was a native of this county and lived one mile West of this place. He was a stonemason and had worked for the railroad company at different times for several years past. His remains were buried at Freedom church, five miles Southwest of this place Thursday. He leaves a wife and children.

Miss Ida May Adams has been visiting friends at Wildie, Miss Zula Jones, of Middlesboro, is visiting her grandparents at this place. Rev. James Walton was here first of the week. Ewers was visiting Livingston. Walter Bowers, of Parkville, is visiting his brother, Will, at Wildie.

McPherson has been working in the Livingston yards for about two years. He is a brother of Conductor and Fireman McPherson, who have been on this road many years.

Mrs. J. S. Minor, of Louisville, is visiting her son, E. T. Minor. Mrs. John Gardner, of Missouri, is visiting relatives here. Mrs. Jennie Bright, of Middlesboro, is visiting relatives here. Miss Harriet, daughter of Mr. James Cox, and Mr. John Peace, of near Preachersville, were married Wednesday, and spent the night at her father's near here, after which they went to his home. All join in wishing them a happy future.

Monticello, Wayne County.

G. D. Combs closed his meeting at Mill Springs with 14 conversions, 85 members enlisted and the prospects of a working church. He will go from there to Steubenville.

Circuit court convened Monday with a very small crowd in attendance, as most of the farmers were busy cutting wheat. There were 59 chancery; 26 common law; seven criminal prosecution and 70 misdemeanor cases on the docket. Judge Morrow presided and with his usual assiduity disposed of a goodly number of cases without parley. Cal. Troxell was sentenced to the penitentiary two years for forgery. Clay Coffey was fined $100 for selling whiskey. W. J. Simpson was also fined $100 for selling liquor. There were six indictments against John Smith for selling liquor. Messrs. Watliff and Gibson, of Somerset, spent several days here this week.

NEWS OF THE VICINAGE.

The Wayne County Record takes six days to make the trip from Monticello here, but it isn't a slow paper.

At Richmond four young men started to paint the town. They got into trouble with the officers and one of them, Price Crews, was shot and seriously injured by Deputy Herndon Dudley.

The country people are so wrought up over the removal of the hitching posts on the public square at Harrodsburg that they threaten to boycott the town and have the county seat removed.

Kingsville, Lincoln county.

During the thunder storm last week, Dr. Thompson's house was struck by lightning, slightly impairing the chimney. The family felt the shock, but there was no serious damage.

Rumors are rife of many weddings to occur in this vicinity within the next three months. There are no cards out formally announcing engagements, hence we will not disclose names until later.

Your correspondent endeavors to be authentic in every particular in reporting to the INTERIOR JOURNAL, but not being infallible, mistakes will sometimes occur, one of which was the statement in our last letter that John Young, of Highland, was to become the partner of Mr. Goshorn, of Indiana, in the saw mill business, whereas it should have been John Cook.

Mrs. Mary Brewer is at home from Danville, visiting friends and relatives, preparatory to going on an extended visit to Kansas City. Mrs. Stella Graves, of Cincinnati, has returned home after a few days pleasantly spent with relatives here. Born to the wife of Ed Murphy, Jr. a fine girl.

LETTER FROM STEPHEN VANDERPOOL.

GROESBECK, TEXAS, June 15.—I find your valuable paper indispensable for old home news in far away Texas, so enclosed you will find subscription for another year.

I want to commend you for the part you took in the Goebel trouble. We had the details in the Dallas News and other Texas papers, but to read your enthusiastic accounts was like being there almost.

We are pleased with our adopted home, if we could but get acclimated so we would not have chills, but it has been such a rainy season so far it has caused a great deal of malaria. We had a late spring, but have been having such vegetables as beans, peas, cabbage, beets and cucumbers for a month; and peaches, apricots, plums and blackberries have stocked the market; corn is silking; oats being harvested; cotton looking fine. Everything gives promise of an abundant harvest, especially of democrats; they are all being elected to office. We have just had an interesting primary and that ends the trouble, for the republicans do not put out a man and the pops had almost as well not.

Long live the INTERIOR JOURNAL, and hurrah for Bryan.

MORELAND.

Farmers around here are very much damaged by the ravages of the fly in their wheat. The destruction has been enormous.

John Braxdale, who has been at the point of death for some time, is somewhat improved now, and the chances are that he will recover.

The strawberry season just passed has been one of profit to the many growers around here. The land around here is peculiarly adapted to their culture.

The high class of work turned off by the few mechanics that make their home near here is evidenced by repeated calls from our neighboring town—call for carpenters and painters.

J. K. Helm has been in Boyle county the past week stripping blue grass seed. He reports the crop as about an average one, but the continued rains will very much retard its harvesting.

Pruitt Bros. now have the advantage of a regular graduate in embalming, as the junior partner, M. E. Pruitt, has just returned from Louisville, where he has been taking a course, bringing with him his sheepshead.

Phil Sutterfield, who has been under the instructions of B. P. Shewmaker in the railroad office here, has been given the office at Brannon on the North end of the road. M. S. Matthews is now stationed at Waynesburg.

The majority of the leading democrats in this locality are in favor of Black as the standard bearer of democracy in the coming campaign, with a very warm feeling for James B. McCreary in case he can be induced to enter the race.

You may tell W. B. Hill, of Mt. Salem, that one of his old neighbors, S. M. Helm, had a cow that gave eight gallons of milk at one milking after a calf with a voracious appetite had become satiated and he has proof by three witnesses. We would all like to see the scale ticket on the 35 pound rattler.

Over 300 invitations were issued one day last week to the marriage of Mr. Wm. Sneed, of Knoxville, Tenn., to Miss Lizzie Logan, second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Logan. We wish the happy pair many happy years of married bliss, in advance, and hope that it may be all like the glorious month of June—all flowers and a bountiful harvest.

We commend the ladies of the W. C. T. U. for their efforts of reform, but when we consider the masculine limb of the prohibition element here the thing is disgusting. Nine out of 10 of these are preaching prohibition and voting the republican ticket. Another evil in this immediate vicinity is the sale and use of morphine, and we venture the assertion that there are more morphine fiends to the square inch here than in any part of the State. Take our advice and turn a little more attention to this branch of reform.

Sunday afternoon, "Rastus was on Parade," in the exercises of the U. B. F. Ladies of the Mysterious Tent, and Juvenile Society, all colored organizations here. After a lengthy parade they repaired to the colored Christian church, where all societies gathered to hear the annual society sermon, which was delivered by Rev. Schell Woods, of Boyle county. The sermon was characteristic of the race, and replete with Negro humor and exhortations for reform, mingled with "lodge" ordinances and was very much enjoyed by quite a crowd of white listeners.

We heard a pretty good description of "Little Britian" the other day by a young man who had given up a pretty paying job down there and came in home disgusted with the town and the inhabitants thereof. When asked to give his reasons, he remarked that the population consisted of dummies, duds and Negroes, and that the dummies couldn't speak to you and the Negroes had no desire to speak to, and being socially inclined was very much disgusted with his brief sojourn in the city of Danville.

Uncle Jesse Carter seems to think that Hustonville No. 1 should have been entitled to a representative at the last democratic convention. While she did not come to the front with her usual democratic quota, the fact is overlooked by the careless observer that this district contains more Negroes and floating white voters than nearly any precinct in the county, and the division and squabbling of all the leaders was the sole cause of it all. Nevertheless the general result compared very favorably with Nos. 2 and 3, with everything considered.

STORY OF A SLAVE.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This sure remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This noble working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c. Sold by Penny, Druggist.

LANCASTER.

Don't forget the base ball by the bloomer girls on Tue-day 26, and Sells & Gray's circus on Wednesday, 27.

Raymond Haselden has patented a cistern filter, which is the most perfect device on the market and is selling rapidly.

Lawson & Fox sold 280 lambs to Richmond parties. They were the top of the market and brought top figures I understand.

Clay Gill, a well-known colored man, age 50, dropped dead in the harvest field at James Nave's, supposed to be the result of sun-stroke.

J. I. Hamilton offers to bet $10 that the democratic nominee will be elected governor and $10 that he will be assassinated by the republicans.

Mrs. O. H. Irvine, of Louisville, is with her uncle, E. W. Harris. Miss Lena Johnson, of Elizabethtown, is the guest of Miss Florence Harris.

The numerous friends of Mr. Black in this section are delighted to hear of the encouragement with which he is meeting, and we are all of the opinion that he is the man to unite party and poll an old time majority.

Mrs. John S. Baughman entertains from 4 to 6, this, Thursday afternoon at her beautiful country home near Hattiesville, guests to meet Mesdames F. P. Frisbie and G. A. McRoberts. Lunch will be served and a pleasant time is expected.

Rev. T. S. Bush tells me that republicans are so scarce in some parts of Texas that democrats have to take charge of the postoffices and other Federal offices. That is certainly a happy land and it is no wonder that its population is increasing so rapidly.

Mr. J. V. Cook is improving some in health. Mr. J. M. Duncan has returned from Rock Castle Springs, but he has no big fish story, the river being too high. He didn't wet a line, but corks were wet as usual. Miss Mary Sandifer, who has been visiting Mrs. J. M. Logan, has gone to Louisville to visit relatives.

The farmers are all busy harvesting the abundant crop of wheat and cultivating their corn crops. Our town looks like a deserted village, a case having been passed in the police court until men enough come to town to constitute a jury. With this state of affairs, the public will be favored with a short letter this time.

There is something in a name after all. Consider the great men who have worn and who now wear the name William. There is McKinley, Harrison, Waite, Welles, Goebel, and above all, Bryan. I can only think of two truly great men called Thomas. They are Jefferson and Hill. James was worn by a king and is worn by Alcorn, John, David and Peter were great Bible names, but they have been greatly abused as you will discover if you think of some who wear them. The same is true of Mathew and others.

J. I. Hamilton will ship a load of horses to Memphis next week. City Attorney W. I. Williams will go to Campbellville Tuesday to visit relatives. Mr. R. L. Davidson is the youngest man who has been appointed from this section as an alternate to a National convention, he being only 23 years old. Misses Altie and Bessie Marksberry entertained a few friends Monday evening to meet visitors. Mr. H. W. Batson has returned from Michigan, where he completed the courses in the law school. Mr. John L. Hays is at home again much improved in health.

Low rates West. Railroad bargain days via the Monon route. Tickets will be sold by the Monon route from Louisville, Ky., to points in Arizona, British Columbia, Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Manitoba, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, Northern Wisconsin and Wyoming at one first-class fare plus $2 for the round-trip on June 19th, July 3, 17, Aug. 7, 21, Sept. 4, 18, Oct. 2, 16, Nov. 6, 20, and Dec. 4, 18, limited returning 21 days. Prospecting parties and tourists will be furnished with schedule and further information by addressing E. H. Bacon, District Passenger Agent, Monon Route, Louisville, Ky.

THE effrontery and gall of republican stump speakers would be amusing but for their enormity and absurdity on occasion. Wolcott apotheosizes the g. o. p. in its clean and spotless record, denounces and damns the Indiana thieves, his party quartered on Cuba, disclaiming any party responsibility for those officials indulging the most prominent of republican characteristics, and at very moment of his demagogical utterances the republican party in its National convention, presided over by this stump speaker, is shielding from arrest and boasting as a martyr a fugitive assassin. Ye gods! to what depths of depravity has the party of looters sunk that it denounces its thieves and shields its assassins for political ends.

BISMARCK'S IRON NERVE

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring, use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25c at Penny's Drug Store.

For Congress.

HON. G. G. GILBERT

Of Shelby County.

IN the course of a thoughtful article on the political situation and a plea for harmony, the Hopkinsville Kentuckian, kindly and courteously asks Gov. Beckham to step aside and let a stronger man be nominated for governor. The bolting democrats will not harmonize on him and the general demand is for a new leader. The republicans will take a new man and the democrats will too, if they are wise in their day and generation. Gov. Beckham is young and can wait. The paper then pays high tributes to the three other gubernatorial aspirants, and while it does not say so in so many words, it is plain to see that its preference is for Hon. Jas. D. Black, whom it describes as "a lawyer of the highest ability, a speaker of great eloquence and power, a leader of intrepid courage, a genial and affable gentleman, who would make an ideal candidate and re-unite the democratic party. Those who know him best say his nomination would be worth 3,000 votes to the judicial candidate in the Eastern district, and insure the election of a democratic judge of the court of appeals. It would redeem the 9th and make sure the 10th Congressional district. It would give the democratic party a leader for whom even many of the mountain republicans would vote, for Eastern Kentucky has never had a candidate for governor." The article coming as it does, from a member of the State committee, is decidedly significant and shows that the sentiment of that end of the State, like this, is against nominating Gov. Beckham this time.

THE Louisville Commercial wants John W. Yerkes to prosecute John S. Rhea for referring to him in his convention speech as "the cleanest and ablest of the republican assassins in Kentucky." Of course Mr. Yerkes will not take such advice, but Mr. Rhea ought to call the Ohio importation to law for speaking of him as a "rapid blackguard." There is no man in Kentucky who knows Mr. Yerkes, who would for a moment think that he would himself resort to the cowardly and devilish means of murder, for he is as much a man as ever cut a throat or scuttled a ship, but he keeps bad company and by so doing apparently sympathizes with those who are charged with the diabolical crime. By endorsing Taylor and his acts, the republican party has put itself on record as approving government by assassination and Mr. Yerkes will have to bear the burden and the odium attached to it. As clean a man as he appears personally to be, it will be too much for him to carry and he will be beaten and beaten badly, as he deserves to be.

GOV. BECKHAM has issued an address to the democrats of Kentucky announcing his candidacy for governor, to which he has a thoughtful and generous consideration. The duties of his office are too great and pressing for him to make a canvass and he relies on his record to help him through, promising if nominated to devote his every effort to give the State a clean and economical government. We think Gov. Beckham makes a mistake by complicating the situation with his candidacy. He has acquitted himself nobly under trying circumstances and the people think well of him, but we believe that a majority is of the opinion that he is not the strongest man.

IN order to draw attention to himself and get a slice of the applause, which was so liberally bestowed to any and everybody at the Philadelphia convention, Assassin Taylor got the attention of the chair and when he thought everybody had taken in his gaunt form and hog jaw face, he simply said, "I second the motion." Then he sat down with a dull thud and was lost to view and forgotten. A great many republicans sympathize with assassins and assassinations as a means of government, but there are enough at Philadelphia who do not, to give Taylor the cold shoke and the icy stare when he tries to impose his filthy presence on them.

THE osteopaths won out in the court of appeals in the attempt of the regular practitioners to declare that they had the right to practice, which grants a perpetual injunction against the board of health interfering in any manner with them. Results have proved that the new science is wonderful in many ways.

THE new board of trustees of the houses of Reform, met at Lexington Wednesday and re-elected Mrs. L. E. Adell president, C. W. Bean treasurer, and W. P. Walton secretary for the ensuing year. There are now 117 inmates in the institution and arrivals very day.

IN his speech opening the Philadelphia convention, Boss Hanna said: "Always trust the people." He intended to say "always give the people the trusts." At least that sentiment is more in keeping with the doctrine of him and his party.

WE knew it would come and we are pleased that it has. Tarvin has gotten self "mentioned" for governor and is still ahead of him, however. The ex-governor was being mildmannered for vice president.

TO HON. MR. YERKES:

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL presents its compliments to Hon. John W. Yerkes and requests the pleasure of a brief audience.

This is something like the way we used in the long-time ago to write our card to the girls when we strove to be polite and in good form. In our impersonal character of journalism, tho' not always wholly conventional, we have little less desire to act decorously than in the callow days when we trusted to gentility to add a touch of grace to an uncouth personality.

So, tendering our compliments to Mr. Yerkes and assuming that he will be the republican candidate for governor the coming election, we give him notice of a few questions that the people will likely propound to him. The Queen of Sheba proposed to herself that she would vex Solomon with hard questions. To vex is not our purpose. Not desiring to take even our enemy unawares, and to the end that the answers given may be made after mature deliberation, we suggest presently only a few:

1. If you are elected governor will you before the trial of any of the persons now indicted for being accessory to the murder of Gov. Goebel, pardon any of them?

2. If they are convicted after trial, will you then pardon any of them?

3. If Taylor and Finley are still fugitives, will you issue a requisition for their apprehension?

4. Do you approve the conduct of Gov. Mount, of Indiana, in refusing to honor the requisition of Gov. Beckham for the arrest of Taylor and Finley?

5. Have you ever in public or private conversation, condemned the assassination of Goebel except upon the ground that might injure the republican party?

6. Were you present at the secret Galt House convention of republicans in Louisville on the night following the Colson-Scott tragedy in Frankfort?

7. If you answer yes to the last question, as you undoubtedly must, answer, then you will be further asked if you advocated or approved a proposition to bring the mountain feudists to Frankfort to murder or overawe Goebel or the Legislature?

8. If you answer you did not, then you will be asked why you did not, as a dear lover of "civil liberty," that same sweet "civil liberty" your platform and stump orators prate so much about—why you did not, as a lover of liberty and law, expose this damnable plot?

(Paraphrasing.) We trust you will not endeavor to excuse yourself on the ground that you were in another part of the large room and that you were afflicted with the same sort of buzzing that caused Mr. Blaine to misunderstand Bro. Burchard, and that your imperfect understanding was that the assassins were to be brought out only to protect the "civil liberties" of every body and not for murder.

9. Do you approve the act of Taylor in refusing to allow the civil authorities to search the executive building for the murderers of Goebel?

10. Do you approve Taylor's act in driving the members of the Legislature from the State-house with his soldiers?

11. Do you approve his act in driving the Legislature at the point of the bayonet from the court house and other public places in Frankfort, when it endeavored to assemble?

12. Do you approve his act in ordering his soldiers to chase the members of the Legislature through the streets of Frankfort?

13. Do you approve his act in quartering soldiers and armed bodies of mountaineers in the public buildings at Frankfort with orders to them to allow no one access to them without a pass from him or his adjutant general?

14. Do you approve his act in driving the judges of the court of appeals from Frankfort by converting the State capital into military barracks?

15. Do you approve his act in refusing to obey the writ of habeas corpus?

16. Do you approve his course now in remaining in Indiana, a fugitive, from justice?

17. Do you believe he meant to lie or to tell the truth when he publicly stated that if indicted he would never become a fugitive from justice, but would return to Kentucky and stand his trial?

19. If you are elected governor will you obey the constitution and laws of the State?

20. Do you believe the constitution of the United States is the supreme law of the land?

21. Do you believe that the following is a correct quotation of Sub-section 2, Section 2, Article IV, constitution of the U. S. "Any person charged in any State with treason, felony or other crimes, who shall flee from justice and be found in another State, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up to be removed to the State having jurisdiction of the crime?"

22. If this be a correct quotation, why did you as a member of the recent republican convention at Philadelphia, at a meeting of the Kentucky delegation of republicans, approve a resolution commending and praising Gov. Mount, of Indiana, for deliberately violating this law?

These are a few, only a sample of the inquiries which the people of the State will ask you to answer. You are a courteous gentleman and will no doubt oblige them by full and (shall we say it?) satisfactory answers.

When W. S. Taylor was put on the resolution committee at Philadelphia, wonder if he didn't think about resolving to turn over a new leaf and quit playing fugitive?

MCKINLEY AND ROOSEVELT.

NOMINATED BY THE REPUBLICANS AT PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation, after many orators, including Mr. Yerkes, had extolled them in fervid oratory. The convention then having finished its job, adjourned sine die.

THE republican National convention at Philadelphia was called to order Tuesday by Boss Hanna, who made a big blow about trusting the people, and announced Senator Wolcott for temporary chairman. He was presented and made a speech of an hour and 10 minutes during which he strove to sound many key notes which, however, fell flat. Enthusiasm was not largely on tap, except for Roosevelt for vice president, his popularity exceeding McKinley's. After the appointment of the various committees an adjournment was had till next day, when the committee on permanent organization named Senator Lodge for permanent chairman, who, of course, had to blow his bazon, taking occasion in doing so to give Kentucky democrats a slap. The platform was adopted and the convention adjourned till yesterday.

The platform declares for a ship subsidy, for more pensions, for a force bill, for the gold standard, for an isthmian canal, approves the insular policy, touches lightly on the trusts, straddles the Boer question and mentions a reduction of the war tax, but does not promise to repeal it.

Hanna did his best to stem the tide for Roosevelt, but it was no go and he finally surrendered to the inevitable and said he thought McKinley and Roosevelt should be nominated by acclamation.

The Kentucky republicans in Philadelphia, after a conference, decided to boom ex-Gov. Bradley for vice president, and committees were sent out to hustle among the Southern delegates in Bradley's interest. The ex-governor, while expressing the opinion that it would be a useless undertaking, urged a systematic canvass. W. S. Taylor was selected to place Bradley's name before the convention. The delegation was organized and John W. Yerkes was re-elected National committeeman. Bradley was made chairman of the delegation, Taylor the member of the committee on resolutions and George Denny of credentials.

LATER—the counter current was too great and Gov. Bradley recognizing the inevitable called his friends off and his name was not presented.

THE republicans have nominated a strong ticket, but Bryan and Hill will be a stronger one.

POLITICIANS AND POLITICS.

R. L. Courtney, of Jessamine, will carry the prohibition banner in the Congressional race in this district.

John B. Chenault will vote Judge Pryor's proxy in the National convention, the judge being unable to go.

F. A. Hopkins, of Prestonburg, has announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for Congress in the 10th district.

Eight heavily armed men are said to guard Taylor night and day at Philadelphia and even with them the promoter of assassination wears a frightened, haunted look.

The Indianapolis Sentinel observes that the Mount-Campbell controversy leaves the former "in the most disgraceful and contemptible attitude ever occupied by a State executive."

Four hundred elk tusks were sold in Spokane, Washington, the other day for $1,000. The demands of the members of the Order of Elks and the growing scarcity has increased the value of the tusks.

A new democratic National button is in the form of a clover leaf, with the inscriptions in gold letters as follows: "Democracy stands for bimetalism, not monometalism." "The people, not the trusts." "Republic, not empire."

Taylor's oft told tale of what he has suffered for liberty's sake, reminds us of the story of Arnold Winkelried. It is so different.

"Make way for liberty, he said, Mad's sure of liberty and fed."

—Danville News.

According to a dispatch from Trenton, N. J., the 3,373 corporations chartered in that State under the existing trust act have paid fees into the State treasury of $1,554,129. This is the price for which the State of New Jersey has sold its honor to the money power.

In Philadelphia, 44 years ago the republican nominated John C. Fremont as its first candidate for president, and from that day it has had the presidency by election or theft during all the terms but three. How long, Oh Lord! How much longer?—Louisville Times.

"I am a citizen of this State, amenable to its laws. I am not a criminal neither shall I ever be a fugitive from justice. Whenever indicted, if such an outrage should be committed, I shall appear for trial, conscious of my innocence and of the ultimate triumph of right and justice."

The morning of the day the supreme court was expected to hand down its opinion, Taylor came to Louisville. He doubtless had an inkling of what the decision would be. He kept well out of sight and reach. He declined all social blandishments. Then advised that the jig was up he stood not on the order of his going, but went at once. Whilst the wires were yet warm with the message from Washington, the hero and martyr, this bragadoelo captain, who has said: "I am a citizen of this State and amenable to its laws" and "I am no criminal, neither shall I ever be a fugitive from justice" quietly slipped out of the back door of some safe retreat, slid into the back yard, stepped down an alley to the river, stepped into a skiff and softly, gently sped across the Ohio to "Iudiciary." And immediately upon reaching the sacred soil of Hoosierdom, and making sure the sheriff with a kidnapping posse, was not at his heels, he lifted up his voice and cried aloud for Mount. All this while Mount was waiting at the water's edge to receive the wanderer in his open arms. Then when they had wept on one another's bosoms and had shaken their clutched fists at the distant Kentucky shore it is related that

Mount cried and Bill cried,
And then they sat side by side,
Down by the river's side"

COCAINE.—Not thinking that any but druggists and doctors would handle cocaine the city council made the prohibition only against them handling it, except for strict medical purposes. They found out, however, that a certain Negro woman was dealing largely in the drug, and they met Tuesday and made the penalty for handling it apply to all persons, the fine being from $10 to $50. The council also rescinded the hotel license, which had been fixed at $10, on the grounds that it was unjust discrimination.

CIRCUIT COURT.—Libburn Padgett was fined $50 for cutting Letcher Bunch and Bony Carter $25 for shooting at Dwight Root. John Adams was given a year for breaking into John Cook's stable and stealing sacks. J. W. Root was put on in W. C. Greening's place as juror. The grand jury has adjourned after finding 25 indictments, 10 of which were against two men for violating the liquor laws. The jury reported the jail and both of the clerk's offices in good condition, but suggested some minor repairs. G. W. A LARGE majority of the 90 couples invited by the Misses Owsley to their reception in honor of Misses Beulah McElwain and Alma Lackey were present Tuesday evening to enjoy the delightful hospitality of Walnut Flat. The approach was illuminated with Japanese lanterns and the fine old mansion was brilliantly lighted within, where scores of beautiful women and chivalrous men were charmingly entertained. Mrs. J. S. Owsley, Jr., served frappe and Mrs. W. P. Walton assisted in entertaining. About 11 o'clock refreshments were elegantly served and after an hour or two more of enjoyment the guests departed with many thanks to the hostesses and compliments to their charming guests.

THE hop given in honor of those beautiful young girls, Misses Alma Lackey and Christine Bradley, at Walton's Opera House was largely attended and enjoyed almost as much as the big June hop. All of our prettiest girls with their visitors and our most gallant young men were present and in addition these handsome couples came from Lancaster: Frank Marksberry and Miss Lackey, J. M. Farra and Miss Jennie Burnside, J. H. Kinnsaid and Miss Mary Sandifer, L. H. West and Miss Maggie Tomlinson, B. D. Herndon and Will West; R. L. Salter and Miss Mamie Wilson Carpenter, Danville; Miss Edna Camnitz, Melville Hopper, Helen Hocker and Jones Baughman O. S. Williams, V. B. Morse, Jr., and Howard Campitz, Hustonville. The music by Cook & Farmer's orchestra was good and pleasure reigned supreme till 1 o'clock, when the party reluctantly broke up. The guests of honor did themselves great credit and received the most marked attention.

TWO KILLED.—By the collapse of a bridge over Rolling Fork on the Greensburg branch of the L. & N., an engine, baggage car and one coach of a passenger train were precipitated into the stream 25 feet below. Two carpenters, Jas. Huston and George Mullins, both of Rockcastle, were killed. The seriously injured are J. B. Martin, Lebanon, supervisor, knee, foot and head hurt and severe injury to lower abdomen; Ezra Hagan, Greensburg, express messenger, leg broken, left side injured; John Newland, Brodhead, flagman, face and neck injured; Claude Hobson, Lebanon, brakeman, injured internally; W. C. Cable, Brodhead, bridge car, center, head hurt and internal injuries; Arch Brown, Brodhead, bridge carpenter, shoulder and leg hurt; Wm. Adams, Brodhead, bridge carpenter, head and chest badly injured. Conductor Turner and Brakeman Hobson were the only persons in the front coach. The conductor did not receive the slightest injury, while Mr. Hobson's condition is thought to be critical.

LATER.—Mr. Cable died at an early hour yesterday morning and his remains will be interred at Brodhead today. He married a daughter of J. D. Hamm, of Rockcastle, and she and four children survive him.

TAMALES AND BUZZARDS.

How, According to Belief, One Protects the Mexican from the Other.

"Down in my section of the United States there is much to interest an observing man," said Alfred J. Smith, of Nogales, Ariz., to a Washington Star man, "but there are two things which you don't have here which play an important part in the every-day life of a portion of the inhabitants, and for the sake of a brief description I will designate them as buzzards and tamales."

The Mexicans are inordinately fond of red peppers. They grow to enormous size, compared to those you see here, and in the houses and to the eaves of the porches of every Mexican habitation, be it ever so humble, in Mexico, Arizona and California, one will observe strings of this brilliant red condiment hanging with the ends of the stalk twisted into braids.

"The Mexican mixes the red peppers with his food with a lavishness indicating his extreme fondness for its hot, burning flavor, and in a manner that is unacceptable to the American palate. It enters into the composition of all his dishes.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS' WIVES.

They Must Wait Long, Weary Weeks for Letters from Their Loved Ones.

Yet, terrible as war is, with its weary marches, battles, sickness, wounds, slaughter, death, and knowing that the soldier must endure it all, yet, I repeat, my heart sheds not its keenest blood of sympathy for him, writes Mrs. U. S. Grant, in Harper's Bazar. No, it is for the woman he leaves behind—the woman whose province it is to wait, and who, in that waiting, must endure the tortures of a lost soul—to whom my keenest sympathy cries out. There are no braver women in the world today than the wives of our army officers, and those of our private soldiers as well, for the heart under the rough woolen jacket can ache as piercingly as that under the silken robe. To their honor, be it said, that in the path of duty no sacrifice is too great for them, no loved one too dear to yield.

Six seemingly interminable weeks must elapse before a letter from the Philippines can reach the eastern part of the United States, and every soldier's wife knows when she reads the letter that in the intervening weeks since it was written the loved hand that penned the words may have fallen palsied by a Mauser bullet.

ST. PATRICK'S GRAVE.

The Saint's Resting Place Said to Have Been Discovered at Last.

After ages of neglect, says the London Daily Graphic, the traditional resting place of the remains of Ireland's patron saint in the cathedral grave yard at Downpatrick have been covered with a memorial stone. The stone is a rough, weather-beaten boulder of granite, weighing about seven tons, from the mountain side of Slieve-na-Largie, where it rested at a height of 600 feet. Upon the upper surface of the boulder is incised an Irish cross, faithfully reproduced from one cut on an equally rough, unheaven stone found on the island of Inisclonnan, one of the islands of Lough Ree, where St. Diarmid founded his famous ecclesiastical settlement in the middle of the sixth century. Under the cross the name "Patric" is cut in Irish characters copied from the earliest known Celtic manuscripts. The simple treatment is considered to be the nearest approach to the form of monument which would have been constructed about the year 460, the supposed date of the saint's death.

The movement was initiated by F. J. Bigger, of Belfast, who was warmly supported by all classes and creeds. The supervision of the work was intrusted to W. J. Fennell, architect of Belfast.

Bomb to Destroy an Army.

A retired artillery officer of the Belgian army has invented a number of officers and engineers to an exhibition at Antwerp of an invention he contends will revolutionize warfare. The inventor, a Mr. Reuling, says that his invention is so deadly that the army against which it is directed would be entirely destroyed in a few minutes. It is a species of bomb, loaded with a terrible explosive, the name of which the inventor has not yet divulged. He has promised to give incontrovertible proof of the destructive powers of the invention before experts.

Automobile Weighing Fourteen Tons.

A wealthy Australian owns what is said to be the heaviest automobile in the world. It weighs 14 tons and is run by a gasoline motor of 75 horsepower. This enormous vehicle, which is capable of a speed when needed of eight miles an hour, is employed to carry freight to and from a gold mine situated 372 miles in the interior of the country.

A CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to say that I feel under lasting obligations for what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has done for our family. We have used it in so many cases of coughs, lung trouble and whooping cough, and it has always given the most perfect satisfaction, we feel greatly indebted to the manufacturers of this remedy and wish them to please accept our hearty thanks.—Respectfully, Mrs. S. D. D. Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by Craig & Hocker.

MY FATHER.

My father's name is Will. You never see him still. He is very tall and straight. A Stanford girl he took for his mate.

He gives his lectures free. Especially to the three. He does love to give advice. May be he thinks it is nice.

He really likes to work. From it he will never shrink. He wants to be in the field at the rising of the sun. So his work can then be done.

He hates to see it rain if he is in a hurry. If he is behind in his work, he will worry.

He will say more rain more rest. And will repeat, the Lord knows best.

He pretends, he does not care for anything sweet. But would be mad, if you would sit him down just to bread and meat.

Sometimes he eats until he almost dies. For he does love apple pies.

His stock he will never neglect. They are always fed, and get what they expect.

When them, he begins to call. Then the cattle will bawl.

Going to church he will never miss. He says it is not right to do this. And sings very loud.

You can hear him above any crowd. This is the way little Fannie Royston, of Point Leavell, pictures her father, whom everybody will recognize at a glance.

Getting at the Facts.

"As the court understands it," said the judge, "the defendant here began the quarrel because the plaintiff hurled an epithet at him. Was that the way of it?"

"No, yer anner," the witness explained; "they're both liars. OI seen it all myself. Nobody thrum an epithet. Moike—that's him over there—called Jawn something, and Jawn—that's him over here—heaved a brick. Nobody hurled nothin' else."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Resentment.

"I'm afraid some of my constituents don't think as much of me as I'd like to have them," said the congressman.

"I'm afraid they don't." "Do they say anything?" "No. I wish they would. Then maybe we would have them looked up on a charge of profanity."—Washington Star.

Another Exception.

More ugliness is not a guarantee of excellence in all things that we see; There may be worth and juice about the claim. Yet none about the dummy sawdust ham.—Chicago Record.

GOING HER ONE BETTER.

"Pity 'T is 'T is True!" The world is peculiar in many respects.—At the notion, I trust, you'll not scoff! A man isn't thought to be getting on well till in sooth he is getting well off!—Puck.

Entirely Too Modest.

Mrs. De Plane—I am so delighted by my photograph that I have brought you a little present.

Photographer (modestly)—I really don't deserve such a testimonial, madam. Give it to that gentleman over there.

"Does he assist you?" "Yes. He does the retouching."—N. Y. Weekly.

Feminine Consistency.

Mabel—Why do you always buy two kinds of note paper?

Maud—Well, you see, when I write to Tom I use red paper—that means love; and when I write to Jack I use blue paper—which means faithful and true.—Chicago Daily News.
